

Pennsy Broadway Limited Train Set

The Broadway Limited was the premier train of the premier railroad in America. In an era before air travel was common, the Pennsylvania Railroad's Broadway — along with its rival, the New York Central's Twentieth Century Limited — were the way to travel between New York and Chicago in style. At the end of a long day at work, you could board the train, have a gourmet dinner in the diner while the porter made up your bed, be rocked to sleep by the gentle motion of your sleeping car, wake up to a fine breakfast, and arrive at your destination in time for a morning meeting.

Imagine you're a CEO or movie star taking in the view from the rear platform of the observation car, as the locomotive's whistle echoes off the Appalachian mountainsides. Our recreation of the Pennsy's finest name train features realistic whistle, bell, and steam chuff sounds, huge plumes of puffing smoke, and station announcements for the Broadway Limited. For even more fun, add extra lighted passenger cars, each with interior detail — this heavy, die-cast steam locomotive has plenty of power to get them over the mountains.

In its heyday, the Pennsylvania Railroad was one of the largest transportation systems the world had ever seen. Over its 30,000 miles of track roamed thousands of locomotives and tens of thousands of cars, most of them designed by the railroad itself and many of them built in the road's own shops in Altoona, PA. Its conquest of the Appalachian Mountains at Horseshoe Curve, just west of Altoona, was and still is a landmark of railroad engineering, carrying freight and passengers between the East and the Midwest.

Relive the glory days of the "Standard Railroad of the World" with this rugged, hard-working freight set. With its huge plumes of puffing smoke, deep chuffing sound, and wailing whistle, it's easy to imagine you're battling your way west across Horseshoe Curve to deliver the goods to Chicago or St. Louis. For even more fun, add extra cars decorated for the Pennsylvania and other railroads — this heavy, die-cast steam locomotive has plenty of power to pull them.

Caterpillar® Freight Mover Steam Train Set

The story of Caterpillar dates back to the late 19th century when Daniel Best and Benjamin Holt each searched for ways to harness the promise of steam tractors for farming. By 1910, Benjamin's company had developed the gasoline track-type tractor. Daniel had retired, but his son, C. L., formed a new company and developed his own line of gasoline track-type tractors. In 1925, the two companies merged into Caterpillar Tractor Co., combining their experiences and talents into one product line.

We've created a special train set, naturally featuring a steam locomotive, to celebrate the early Caterpillar years when Best and Holt utilized steam power to create their earliest tractors. Our creative adaptation of the 2-8-0 steam locomotive features a heavy all-metal steam engine boiler and chassis that feels as strong as it runs. The metal gears, wheels and axles ensure a lifetime of fun and the unique sounds of Proto-Sound 2.0 will amaze your friends and family.

They'll watch in amazement as the synchronized puffing locomotive pulls its three distinctive freight cars, each equipped with sprung die-cast metal trucks and operating metal couplers. As with all RailKing Ready-to-Run sets, the 12-piece RealTrax oval assemblies in minutes and can be placed right on the carpet for a quick, temporary layout.

New York Central Fast Freight Set

For much of the twentieth century, the chief rival of the mighty Pennsylvania Railroad was the New York Central. While the Pennsy headed west by conquering the Appalachian Mountains, the NYC followed an easier but less direct route, up the Hudson River Valley and then west along the shores of the Great Lakes — leading the NYC to advertise itself as the Water Level Route. The Central's mainline along the Hudson River was the first four-track long-distance railroad in the world. Along this raceway sped freight bound for the Midwest and passenger trains that included the New York-to-Chicago Twentieth Century Limited, one of the most famous and luxurious trains in the world.

Recreate the drama of fast freight traffic on the Water Level Route with this rugged and colorful train set, complete with die-cast metal steam engine featuring puffing smoke and bell, whistle, and freight yard sounds.
